ALL COMMITTEES
WILL REPORT ON WEDNESDAY EVEFINAL ARRANGEMENTS WILL THEN BE MADE FOR ENTERTAINING CONGRESS

As a means of further perfecting the plans for the entertainment of the American Mining congress, which is to visit Tonopah for a day during the session to be held at Goldfield, many members of the committees met last evening in conjunction with the Tonopah Promotion committee, and numerous plans were discussed.

That the visiting members of the congress will be entertained in a royal manner goes without saying, for the partial reports of several committees demonstrated that every person was hard at work.

A matter relating to the issuing of a pamphlet containing data on the mines of Tonopah and the surrounding districts, in fact every mining camp in Nye county, was discussed and will be decided by the publicity committee, to which it was referred. The publicity committee was enlarged by the appointment of two more members, Branch H. Smith and H. C. Jones.

As delegates to the congress to represent the Promotion association, M. T. Rowland and H. C. Jones were appointed.

None of the various committees were ready to submit their final reports, owing to the finance committee still being out on the hunt for funds. This committee has made a thorough canvass of the town, and with the exception of a few business men, all have been asked to contribute. When they make known the amount secured, the entertainment committee will rapidly formulate its plans.

An adjournment was taken until Wednesday evening, when the committees will all be present and submit their reports. They will hold a joint session, and before the close of the meeting the major portion of the programme will be arranged.

EAGLES SHOW
LOT OF CLASS
ON DIAMONDDEFEAT THE ELKS TEAM BY A SCORE OF FOURTEEN TO SEVEN

Sunday was a great day for the talent in Tonopah and as a consequence more than one man awoke in this city yesterday to find himself famous.

The ball game between the Elks and Eagles was an exhibition of how the game should be played in the real, and it was important to note that more than one of the big league players were on hand to take note.

The contest was exciting in the extreme and was full of fast, furious and spectacular plays. At the end of the third inning the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the Eagles. Great applause.

At the end of the seventh the Elks had scored six runs while the total in the Eagles' column showed one tally. Cheers and groans. In the fifth the Elks scored a gain and the Eagles brought in two runs, making the total three to seven. Feeble applause.

When the smoke had cleared away at the end of the sixth inning, the Eagles had secured six more runs. The demonstration given the team when it went out on the diamond at the conclusion was deafening. In the following inning the Eagles managed to secure five more tallies and then the Elks gave up the ghost. The final score stood 14 to 7, with the aerial inhabitants in the lead. The errors were evenly divided, there being 15 on each side. The majority were caused by the high wind, which made fielding difficult. The total of the hit column gives the Elks five hits while the Eagles secured nine.

Agnew and Rogers were the battery for the antlered bunch while Brick (not Bert) McIntosh, Peck, Prout and Malley officiated in like positions for the Eagles. Buckley umpired and scored only a few errors.

The greatest occasion of the day was at the banquet in the evening which was tendered to the players, the drum corps and the press. Of course the press were there and, strange to relate, dined without making an error. Ed Malley made the first poor play when he started to eat his salad with a knife and was accredited with two errors for this. Bert (not Brick) McIntosh made several hits and fielded the ham dish in a faultless manner, while Brick (not Bert) McIntosh was there with the support. In fact both the teams fielded above the average during the dinner. Following there came speeches from prominent members of both orders, with a few remarks from the press. At midnight the session adjourned with three cheers for both the Elks and Eagles.
